AEROPLANES ARE DESTROYED

Government Mail Service Hit By Costly Fire

CHEYENNE, Wyo. — (By Associated Press) — Several airplanes and the air mail hangar here were destroyed by fire early today. The loss was estimated at $100,000. No one was injured.

The fire started when men working under a plane broke an electric light globe, sparks igniting the gasoline-soaked flooring.

Beacon lights on the landing field were put out of commission when the fire damaged the electric plant in the hangar and officials arranged for the west-bound pilot due before dawn to be signalled to light at Burns Field, 20 miles east of Cheyenne.

Requests that reserve planes be sent from Rock Springs, Rawlins and North Platte, Nebr., as well as keeping the mail ships moving on schedule, it was said.

RATES IN CONTROVERSY

Springfield Also Considering Franchise Problems

COLUMBUS — (By Associated Press) — In an effort to prevent local natural gas distributing companies from discontinuing service Monday midnight as a result of a rate controversy, City Attorney Charles A. Leach today filed a petition for a temporary restraining order in common pleas court. Hearing on the petition was set for Monday morning.

The petition is directed against the Columbus Gas and Fuel Co., the Federal Gas and Fuel Co., the Ohio Fuel Gas Co., and the Ohio Fuel Supply Co. The Ohio Fuel Gas Co. owns the first two corporations and the Ohio Fuel Supply Co. the three, according to the petition.

MANY SERVED

However, only the Federal Gas and Fuel Co. has declared it will suspend service. Twenty thousand families are served by it.

Leach filed the action against all four corporations, for the reason, he said, that they are all owned by the same interests.

The ultimatum from the Federal company, the city attorney asserted.

Two Homes Saved By Quick Runs By Firemen

BLAZE DAMAGE SMALL

Gas Explosion In Furnace Is Reported Saturday

Promptness on the part of Central station firemen probably saved two homes from at least partial destruction Saturday morning, when two roof fires, caused by defective flue sparks, broke out within half an hour of each other. An hour later a third alarm was answered.

At 9:40 a. m. an alarm sent in from the home of J. B. Knowles resulted in a run being made to 353 S. Jackson-st. Flames were gaining rapid headway when firemen arrived. The blaze was conquered by the use of chemicals.

ROOF FIRES

A gas explosion in a furnace in the basement of the R. L. Fletcher apartment between Elm and Spring-st. on Baxter-st. frightened Mrs. S. Cheslow at 10:15 a. m., and she sent in an alarm.

When firemen arrived there was no blaze. According to the fire report, Mrs. Cheslow had filled the furnace with coal, smothering the coal and caused gas to form.

The second roof fire occurred at the home of Mrs. Viola Callahan, 311 S. Myer-st. Firemen drenched the blaze before it was able to spread.

Boxer-Promoter Change Plea In Liquor Case

TWO OTHERS RELEASED

Edgington Brothers' Trial Is Continued By Court

Jake Gross, Lima's whirlwind boxer, was fined $250 and costs, Ralph Candler, boxing promoter, was assessed $500 and costs, and Ernest "Loppy" Diltz and Lawrence Smith were cleared of all charges, when the quartet, arrested last week at the Oaks club on charges of liquor possession, were given a hearing in criminal court late Friday.

Gross and Candler changed their pleas of not guilty to guilty, and Diltz and Smith maintained their innocence, claiming they were simply members of the club and happened to be in the place at the time of the raid.

A half-gallon of pure grain alcohol was found in Gross's possession at the time of the raid. Everyone in the place was taken to police headquarters and placed under arrest. Later they were released on bond.

Four police officers searched the club room, after breaking down barred doors to gain entrance to the place, without finding any trace of liquor. Gross walked up the stairs and into the room with the half-gallon can in his possession.

Chicago Man Refuses to Sell Ground Sheltering Grave

“Work and Fish,” Ambitions of Laborer Offered Fortune

CHICAGO — (Special) — “Money buys everything but happiness.”

“I have happiness. What good would money do me?”

Thus a casual, weather-beaten little old Frank Zernigib.

For the mere asking he could have a million or more dollars tomorrow. Big corporations want to buy his five-acre tract where his grandfather is buried.

But he refuses to sell. He prefers to continue painting houses and go fishing once a year.

The land the corporations want to buy is in the midst of teeming industrial activity. It is the only green spot for a mile around. Blast furnaces belch their smoke on all sides. Trains roar by.

BOUGHT FOR $100

Zernigib's grandfather bought it in 1864 for five $20 gold pieces.

When he died his children buried him there in accordance with his last request.

Once the property was worth little. It was scarcely good for farming.

But came the day of steel and commerce. Came offers of millions to the little old man who has painted houses all his life and knows what it means to watch the pennies.

Every Sunday he goes out and places flowers upon the grave. He stops to read the tombstone. Engraved on it are these words:

“Here rests in the Lord God well-born Andreas Zernigib, born March 20, 1797, died Aug. 21, 1855. Here rest his ashes. Amen.”

Memories come to old Frank.

“On my grandfather's knee I used to play riding horse,” he reminisces. “A noble man was my grandfather, who fished for a living and knew and loved his God.”

“Here he lays at peace and I shall not disturb his sleep. They offer me money to move the grave. But money means nothing.”

“With my wife and six children I am happy. In my little $30-a-month home there is rest when the day's work is done.”

“Would my life be any brighter if I were to sell?”

“Now I work as an honest man should. I am happy at my work. I am glad just to live.”

“Money means so little. If I had much of it I would want it for my children.”

“Some day I shall be going to join my grandfather. Meanwhile let him sleep in the place that he chose for his last rest. All that life can mean is happiness.”

“I shall leave to my children the matter of sale. They are respectful children.”

“I have taught them respect just as my grandfather taught it to my father. Respect is above money. You will find that out on your journey thru the years.”

“Do an honest man's toil and love God. These things will bring you contentment which money cannot buy.”

“And learn to like fishing. It is good for the mind and soul.”

session while the officers were ending the club.

The cases of Ray and Nelson Edgington, brothers, of 218 S. Central-ave, both of whom are free on bond under charges of transporting and possessing illicit liquor, were continued.

DR. MACGOWAN ADDRESSES MEN'S CLUB HERE FRIDAY; 200 MEMBERS AT BANQUET

“A creed is one's own belief, but if an attempt is made to force it upon someone else they won't tolerate it,” Dr. Robert MacGowan, of Pittsburgh, told members of the Men's club of Market-st. Presbyterian church Friday night. Dr. MacGowan spoke on “The Creed of Democracy.”

The government of any country exists, or should exist, for these three purposes, MacGowan said: “To provide conditions for the happiness and contentment of its people; to provide laws for their safety; and to see that these laws are enforced.”

MacGowan advised that the younger generation should be baptized in the third purpose of government and should be trained to obey the law.

Nearly 200 members of the club attended the lecture and the banquet room was filled to capacity.

BLUE LAW CODE REVISED

ASHTABULA, O. — (By United Press) — “Qualified Blue Laws” will be in effect here tomorrow. After four Sundays under the drastic restrictions of the old Ohio “Blue Laws” code, Ashtabula has adopted a revised code.

The local Ministerial league demanded the full force of the law and got it. For four consecutive Sundays Ashtabula was the “bluest town” in the country. Proponents of the new code spent the day twaddling their thumbs, while others offered “passive resistance” by going outside the city limits to buy gasoline and cigars.

But now the opposing factions have agreed on modifications. Tomorrow cigar stores, gasoline stations, garage and soda grills will be open and cigars and soda will be sold between noon and 6 p. m.

The “code” in the new plan is that two ministers and one business man will censor all the movies and the ministers will preach fifteen minute sermons in the theaters. Taking their texts from the films.

SUSIE SMART'S ADVICE

Dear Miss Smart: I am a girl 15 years old and in love with a boy 17 years old. He has a lot of money and he wants me to put my arms around him. I refuse to do this. Is it wrong or right for me to give in to him?

WORRIED DOLLY.

You are much too young to be thinking of love. If I were you, I certainly would not “give in” to this young man.

Dear Miss Smart: I have been going around with a girl for the past three years and I have had no answer to the three letters I've written her. I shall write again soon. D. D. B.

Yes. Particularly as you happen to be in love with the girl, and might regret it all your life if you didn't write. Why not register the letter? Then you'll know whether or not she gets it.

Dear Miss Smart: My husband and I spend most of our evenings with the couple who live across the hall from us. I am sure that my husband and our neighbors are growing to know each other. How can I approach her on the subject without hurting her feelings? I am sure she is a very kind person. JEALOUS.

Don't say anything at all to your neighbor. Your husband is the logical person to go to about it. Ask him bluntly if he cares for the other woman. He probably doesn't, and he may be irritated with you because you are jealous over nothing. But it's better to have the thing cleared up at once than for you to go on making yourself unhappy over a thing that probably doesn't exist.

SOUTH AMERICAN TO SPEAK HERE

Y. M. C. A. Members To Hear Lima, Peru Worker, Nov. 16

J. C. Field, general secretary of the Y. M. C. A. at Lima, Peru, will speak at the annual Sunday morning breakfast held every year under the direction of the Foreign work club of the Lima Young Men's Christian association. This year's meeting is planned for Sunday morning, November 16, at 10 a. m.

According to announcement made Saturday by J. G. Watson, who is chairman of the Foreign Work committee of the local association.

Members of the Foreign Work club, Y. M. C. A. club, Y. M. C. A. club, officers of the H. Y. club, and those of the general Y. M. C. A. are to be invited for the Sunday morning breakfast.

Last year, Harry White, of India, was the speaker and it was the Y. M. C. A. club that brought him to Lima from time to time representatives of all the different countries in which the Y. M. C. A. is doing work.

J. G. Watson, H. A. Stonecker, C. E. Smith, Geo. H. Metcalf, L. E. Just, B. S. Brown, Glen C. Webb, T. O. Shreve, Ben Webb and Alex MacDonell are the members of the Y. M. C. A. Foreign Work committee.

There is considerable speculation here as to whether an effort will be made by the Republicans to read Senator LaFollette of Wisconsin and his followers in the senate and house out of the party, depriving them of their committee assignments and of the privilege of attending party conferences. Several senators, among them Smoot, have declared in favor of such action, while private sources say the Democrats in the senate have advocated disciplinary action against Senator Wheeler of Montana, vice presidential candidate on the LaFollette independent ticket. Senator LaFollette is chairman of the senate manufacturer's committee and is also a leading Republican in the finance and interstate commerce committees.

GAS WAR LOOMS IN COLUMBUS

ed, “is intended to intimidate the city, its inhabitants and council in order to dictate the rate at which natural gas may be sold in the city by them without any public regulation of the rate whatsoever.”

COMPROMISE SOUGHT

COLUMBUS — (By Associated Press) — Columbus, with a population of approximately 300,000, is to lose its gas supply at midnight Monday unless a compromise is reached between city council and gas companies furnishing the fuel supply.

More than 20,000 families will be without fuel if the gas companies carry out their threat to discontinue service.

With the weather bureau predicting colder weather, city council has empowered City Attorney Leach to use every resource at the city's command to block the gas companies' plans and retain the city and fuel companies have been in controversy for several months over a new franchise. The companies are holding out for a 37 1/2 cent per thousand and cubic foot rate while council contends that a forty cent rate is sufficient to assure the companies a fair profit.

Legal action is expected to be taken by the city today.

NEW RATES

SPRINGFIELD — (By Associated Press) — Proposal of a rate of 15 1/2 cents a thousand for natural gas on a contract to run 18 months was submitted by the officials to the Springfield Gas Co. and the Ohio Fuel Supply Co. last night.

The offer was a counter proposal to rates of 65; 60; 55 and 50 cents submitted by the company. The three higher offers of the company were rejected on the pressure and supply guarantee, while the lowest would not. The 55 cent rate would include no service charge while the 60 and two 55 cent offers would include a service charge. The 57 1/2 cent offer, which includes a pressure and supply guarantee, but does not include a service charge. Gas company officials took the proposal under consideration. Meanwhile the city is paying its former rate of fifty cents under a special agreement, the former contract having expired last Wednesday.

COMMITTEES TO SEE CHANGES

Election To Cause Shakeup in House and Senate

LAFOLLETTE UNDER BAN

He And Wheeler May Be Dead Out Of Parties

WASHINGTON — (By Associated Press) — While there will be a general shakeup in the personnel of House and Senate committees as a result of Tuesday's election, fewer than a dozen changes of importance in chairman will be necessary. At least three vacancies caused by death, however, will have to be filled before the expiration of the present congress.

Death of Senators Colt of Rhode Island, and Brandegee of Connecticut, leave the chairman-ships of the immigration and judiciary committees vacant while in the house the merchant marine committee is without a chairman due to the death of Representative Greene, of Massachusetts.

Senator Sterling of South Dakota, is ranking Republican on the senate immigration committee, but he will not be in the state after March 4. Senator Johnson of California, will then be in line for chairman. Senator Borah of Idaho, is the ranking Republican member of the judiciary committee, while on the house merchant marine committee, Representative Edwards of Pennsylvania, who was not a candidate for re-election, is in line for chairman during the December session with Representative Scott of Michigan, next on the committee's Republican roster.

BURNING DEFEATED

Senator Burnum of New Mexico who has been defeated for reelection on the face of incomplete returns, is chairman of the senate pensions committee, on which Reed Smoot, of Utah, is the ranking Republican, while Senator Moses of New Hampshire, will be in line for chairman of the post office committee at the expiration of Senator Sterling's term.

After March 4, Senator Cummins will be relieved of the duties of senate presiding officer and will be in position to resume the chairmanship of the interstate commerce committee, if the Republican majority sees fit to displace Senator Smith, Democrat of South Carolina, who has been serving in that capacity.

There is considerable speculation here as to whether an effort will be made by the Republicans to read Senator LaFollette of Wisconsin and his followers in the senate and house out of the party, depriving them of their committee assignments and of the privilege of attending party conferences. Several senators, among them Smoot, have declared in favor of such action, while private sources say the Democrats in the senate have advocated disciplinary action against Senator Wheeler of Montana, vice presidential candidate on the LaFollette independent ticket. Senator LaFollette is chairman of the senate manufacturer's committee and is also a leading Republican in the finance and interstate commerce committees.

OFFICIAL COUNT AIDS G. O. P.

Completion of the official count of Allen-co's vote in the election Tuesday still further increases the lead of President Coolidge over John W. Davis, Democratic presidential candidate.

Coolidge received 15,711 votes; Davis, 7,378; La Follette, 2,338. The Coolidge plurality is 8,333.

Coolidge's plurality is 8,333. The Coolidge plurality is 8,333. The Coolidge plurality is 8,333.

Count of the vote failed to alter the results in any particular. Democrats won more votes in the county than Coolidge. The official tally gives him 15,733 and Harry Davis, 9,733.

Results from the district contests are still slow in reaching the board of elections. Clara three counties missing. Clara three counties missing. Clara three counties missing.

Official returns on the congressional battle and the third district appeals court race are not in. It is anticipated that the result indicated in the unofficial report, however.

SOVIET EMBASSY DEDICATED

Immoderate Former Russian Imperial Structure For Event

NOTED MEN ARE PRESENT

Correspondents, However, Are Under Ban

LONDON — (By United Press) — The Russian embassy in London was the scene of the strangest ceremony in the British diplomatic history Friday night.

As the last of an army of ministers and decorators left, Christian Rakovsky, Russian ambassador, threw open the doors of the old imperial residence and welcomed friends of Russia to a reception in honor of the seventh anniversary of the Communist revolution.

The affair was exclusive, newspaper correspondents were excluded and all information was refused.

The embassy, one of the most magnificent in London, was turned over to the Russians a fortnight ago, since then there has been feverish redecorating. Guests who entered last night declared they were astonished at the gorgeous cream and gold rooms and furnishings surpassing those of any other embassy.

At the entrance 12 men in working clothes, with red neckerchiefs welcomed the guests. The guests ranged from tylists and clerks from the Soviet offices to men distinguished in the political and literary world.

A few of the guests were in evening dress, but most of the women wore jumpers and blouses and the men business suits.

Among the distinguished personages were H. G. Wells, George Bernard Shaw, George Lansbury, Arthur Henderson, Tom Shaw and Sidney Webb.

Several junior officials of the foreign office attended.

Prominent among the decorations was a bust of Nikolai Lenin surrounded by a bank of chrysanthemums.

THE COSTLY FAMILY

Government cost the United States $10,000,000,000 a year.

It costs YOU $100 a year.

Approximately one-sixth of the total income of all the Americans in continental United States is taken by the government — city, county, state, federal.

YOU, therefore, work one day a week for the government.

The average family of five pays $500 a year into the public treasury.

And the burden is increasing. Rising local taxes offset reduced federal levies.

The average family pays enough annually in taxes to make first payment on a small home, or to buy a light automobile.

But that is not all.

YOUR SHARE of the public debt is $329, your family's share, $1,600. Government has contracted this debt for you. You pay the interest. You will retire the principal.

The public debt totals $329,000,000,000. The federal government has trimmed its debt since the war, but bond issues of cities, counties and states shove the total ever higher.

You are always paying taxes, every day, every week.

Usually you don't know when you are paying them.

When you buy a cigaret you pay three-tenths of a cent in taxes. The total of all these three-tenths of a cent collected from you and other Americans is more than two hundred million dollars a year.

You pay taxes indirectly when you buy a steak at the butcher shop—the taxes of the cattle grower, of the railroad, the meat packing plant, of the automobiles that hauled the meat, of the butcher who sold it to you.

Federal taxes of the direct variety have gone down of late.

Since 1921 the national government has reduced its operating expenses by two billion dollars. It has also paid off two and three-quarter billion dollars of the national debt, thus topping $130,000,000 from interest payment.

Income taxes have been trimmed, but internal and indirect taxes remain.

Tariff is a tax, denounced by Democrats as to so exorbitantly high it raises the cost of living, defended by Republicans as a protection for American workers and American industries.

But federal taxes are the least of your worries.

Municipal, county and state taxes—they get your money.

Federal taxes, at least the direct ones, have been going down, but local taxes have set now all-time records in all parts of the country.

Census bureau figures show that since 1912 state taxes have increased 183 per cent, county taxes 142 per cent and city taxes 80 per cent.

Principal reason for this increase is in the sale of bonds. Local and state governments have troubled their bonded indebtedness since 1912.

It is so easy to finance a public project by a bond issue. But every building built that way is paid for twice—paid for in bond interest, once in retiring the principal.

LABOR PARTY IS UNLIKELY

Results Of Election To Silence Advocates Of Plan

WASHINGTON — (By United Press) — The movement within the American federation of labor to set up a labor party in this country received such a severe setback by the results of the election that the more conservative federation leaders here today were confident that the question would not come before the national convention at El Paso, Texas, Nov. 17.

Labor endorsed nearly 300 congressional candidates. Of these some 180 were elected while only 50 were defeated. This was regarded here as a distinct demonstration of the success labor may have when it clings to its old policy of "rewarding its friends and punishing its enemies."

BUCKEYES GO INTO BATTLE FAVORITES OVER HOOSIERS

George Williams, Local Boy Now Star Guard-With Wilmington College, Badly Injured

OHIO STATE STRONG IN DEFENSIVE WORK

COLUMBUS — (By Associated Press) — Ohio State rules favorite over Indiana in this afternoon's gridiron contest at Ohio Stadium but victory cannot be assured the Buckeyes on account of their bad physical condition.

Only two Buckeyes, Wendler and Jenkins, are said to be without some physical ailment in the starting lineup while the Hoosiers are making the most of their fine condition and have asserted that this factor will furnish them the edge needed to win the contest. Karow, Ohio State fullback who was injured in the Iowa game, will start at his old position today for the first time in three weeks.

Another game itself probably will be a forward passing affair as coaches of both teams have stressed this offensive mode all week and devoted most of the defensive work to the breaking of the forward pass.

SPEARING A FORWARD AT FULL SPEED

ONE MAN OFFENSIVES IN FOOTBALL

By HENRY L. FARRELL

NEW YORK — (United Press) — One-man offensives in football have come in for generous and rather general criticism since several members of the gridiron in recent years collapsed after losing one star from last year's team.

Take Cornell, for instance. Gil Doble, who took the coaching job, always had one or two stars in the backfield around whom he could build an offense. He had the great Karow for several years and when he lost him by graduation, he had the equally capable Matt and he didn't lose a game for three seasons. If there was a squad last June, and there was no one to replace him, Cornell then took one of the sensational flops of the season.

Hugo Bezdek had a similar experience at Penn State. At one time he had the great Glenn Killinger, one of the greatest of all runners, and after Killinger he developed Harry Wilson, who graduated last year and went to the Army for four years more of "varsity football." Penn State has been unable to find a substitute for Wilson.

Michigan had the great Kipke for the last three years and Michigan didn't lose a game while he was playing with the team. There was no Kipke in the lineup to carry the ball this year and Michigan lost her first game in that long stretch to the Illinois team. The Army has had only ordinary success since Oliphant got his commission, although strenuous methods have been carried out to recruit a team of all-stars.

In the case of the Army, the direct opposite of the one-man idea is being attempted. The West Point officials apparently are trying to get a team of eleven star players and it is not working out any better than the one-man theory has.

Ohio State had a great team when Chick Harley was playing and the success of the State team was continued when Pete Stinchcomb was developed to take Harley's place. Workman then came along, but now State has no backfield star for the offense. If there was a Harley, a Stinchcomb or a Workman around, Ohio State might win the Western conference championship. Without an offensive punch, Jack Wilce tried the next best thing and he specialized on the defense and developed one of the hardest teams to score against in the conference. That, however, may be the wrong idea unless it is a course adopted by necessity. As the box fighters say, "You can't win many fights by blocking 'em, even if you don't get 'em ears."

Yale tried for three years to build a team up around Charley O'Hearn and the idea might have worked if O'Hearn had not been so fragile. It was in good luck to have all the stars in the world for a great offensive game and couldn't return.

Harvard's greatest success during the Houghton regime was scored with an offensive built around one great star. Harvard hasn't done so well since Mahan and Brickley left.

Princeton also had a run of one-man teams during the time of Don Lourie, Hank Garrity and others. In the Middle-West they are now asking, "What will happen to Illinois if anything happens to Red Grange?" While granting that Illinois has a tremendous offensive punch with Grange in the game, we don't believe that Red Grange would be caught with his chin open if Grange should be lost by injury.

In marked contrast to the one-man idea is the case of Notre Dame, who at this time has a backfield of four stars. Knute Rockne seems to have at his finger-tips always a flock of stars.

When George Gipp died three years ago, the wise birds chirped that Notre Dame was then making them take them on the chin in the east. Rockne surprised everyone by sending a team out the next year with four of the ranking backfield stars in the country—Stuhldreher, Miller, Crowley and Layden—and one of the best centers in the game—Adam Walsh. Rockne had the same backfield this year. He loses the four stars this year, but there are any number of critics who think that he will have two or three ready now to take their place.

He is holding two sophomores back now for experience and they are ready for next year.

When Walsh broke both his hands in the Army game, everyone thought that Notre Dame surely would be beaten by Princeton, as even Rockne admitted that he didn't have a capable substitute to take his star center's place. But he found one on the campus and Notre Dame beat Princeton.

Yale had a great backfield last year with eight men that could have made any "varsity" in the country and Yale had a great year. This year most of the best men were gone and Yale found her troubles.

own rugged style and added enough of his usual speed to earn the decision by a whirlwind rally in the last two frames.

CHICAGO—Ted Moore, English 155 pounder and Joey O'Hara of Fort Dodge, Iowa, and Chicago fought to a draw in their ten round battle here.

ERIE, Pa.—Eddie Anderson, Chicago, won the decision over Red McDonald, Toledo, in ten rounds and Frankie Van of Cleveland won a decision over Harry Tarrant, Chicago, in six rounds.

UNCERTAIN WHETHER SKULL IS FRACTURED

COLUMBUS — (Special) — George Williams, of Lima, star guard on the Wilmington college football team, suffered severe injuries to his head here Friday when he was accidentally kicked during the Wilmington-College university football game.

An X-ray examination is to be made here Saturday at Grant hospital, where he was removed, to determine whether or not the skull is fractured.

Williams, a former Lima South tackle, is playing his first year with Wilmington and already has been recognized as one of the best linemen ever to have played on the college team.

He was shifted from tackle to guard by Coach Bolen. "Bobbie" Fisher, former Lima South half, and Willard James, also of Lima South, are both playing with Wilmington. Weldon Winegardner, one of the best football players ever turned out by any Lima high school, played during the early part of the season but quit school several weeks ago.

The game here ended in a 7 to 6 victory for Capital and it was the first time Wilmington's goal line has been crossed this year. It was Wilmington's first loss.

BOOZE SHIPPING IS DROPPED

Invitation for Englishman Will Not Be Repeated

LONDON.—(By Associated Press.) Sir Broderick Hartwell, whose famous circular inviting the public to participate in a project for the shipment of liquors to a point twenty miles off the American coast caused somewhat of a stir last year, will not issue another invitation of the kind, according to a promise made by his attorneys before a chancery court here today. The liquor shipping project became a subject of a chancery court case when an American trust company asked an injunction to restrain Sir Broderick from using its name in connection with the suggestion that it was remitting money from America in payment for liquor.

The trust company attorneys stated that in view of the fact that the company held deposits of the American government and that a member of its board was an American law officer the broadcasting of a suggestion that it was in any way connected with rum running could not be tolerated.

Sir Broderick's counsel said that their client did not wish to repeat his circular or have it thought that the trust company had anything to do with the purchase of liquor. The case ended when Sir Broderick agreed to issue no further circulars and to pay the cost of the present action.

New York Theatres

NEW YORK.—(By United Press.)—Charles Dillingham received "Peter Pan" with Marlin Miller of "Sally" fame in the title role at the Knickerbocker theatre last night and critics today complained that the combination made a routine out of Sir James Barrie's whimsical masterpiece. Miss Miller's slim, youthful grace as "the boy who wouldn't grow up" was acclaimed by those of the audience who did not lament the contrast of the production with Maudie Adams' creation of "Peter Pan" two decades ago.

Among those in the audience was Daniel Frohman, brother of the late C. D. I who wrote to Dillingham:

Please save me two seats for the opening of "Peter Pan." I want to tell C. D. I will see him before you will—how his favorite play went over.

Theatrical circles were puzzled today over the unqualified announcement that Wida Benet, one of the younger prima donnas who recently was made defendant in a $100,000 alienation of affections suit will replace Hope Hampton, film star in the title role of "Mrs. Pompadour" which opens at the New Martinique next Tuesday night.

It was to have been Miss Hampton's first appearance in a legitimate Broadway production.

Jeanne Lelux, star of "Rain" begins her third successive year in that part of the theatre tomorrow night "Rain" still is 12 days behind "Abe's Irish Rose" in competition for the longest New York run.
